T-REX HITS CARDIFF

Dinosaur reborn in Welsh capital

Welsh scientists shocked the world yesterday when they said they had succeeded in recreating a Tyrannosaurus Rex. Think of that, a 35-foot monster on the streets of Cardiff!

Scientists at the Welsh BioTech lab in Cardiff have been working with dinosaur DNA for the last 10 years. They have perfected the method for reconstructing dinosaur cells. These cells can be fertilized and grown into living things which walk and breathe.

Welsh Dragon recreated

For the first time in history scientists have recreated a dinosaur. It happened here in the capital city of Wales. T-Rex will now be the new dragon of Wales, local government has decided. The dragon is the national symbol of Wales.
